

英語構文課題4(仮定法を中心に)

第1問 和訳せよ(基礎の確認)

1. If it should rain tomorrow, the game will be canceled.
2. Were it not for your help, I could not finish this work.
3. I took a taxi; otherwise, I would have been late.
4. I wish that she were here now.

第2問 和訳せよ。

If I had had the support I needed to finish the project, I could have completed it on time.

第3問 和訳せよ

If the government had invested more seriously in education when the economy was still strong, young people today might have more opportunities to develop the skills they need, and society as a whole would be better prepared to deal with the rapid changes brought about by technology.

第4問 和訳せよ。

If democratic societies had taken more time to examine the effects of digital technology, they might not now be facing such a serious erosion of public trust. Many citizens have lost confidence in the institutions they once relied on. They often rely on the limited information they have to make sense of complex events, even when that information is incomplete or misleading. If they had the tools they needed to evaluate information more carefully, public debate would be less easily driven by fear and anger.
